November 2, 2011 Business Meeting

The meeting of the Virginia Workforce Council convened following the 2nd Annual Governor's Forum on Education & Workforce Training.

Huey Battle, Chair to the Virginia Workforce Council, welcomed guests and members to the Council. Mr. Battle introduced the keynote speaker, Martin Simon, Program Director, National Governor’s Association (NGA) Best Practices, Economic, Human Services and Workforce Division.

Mr. Simon’s topic, “Closing the Skills Gap along the Career Pathway”, addressed:
- The “New Normal” and Workforce Challenges
- Strengthening of State Workforce Investment Boards (SWIB) responsibilities
- Trends across SWIBs
- Major areas of focus for SWIBs
- Innovative local WIBs
- Effective SWIBs

Mr. Simon discussed three massive forces—economy, public resources, and demographics—and the challenges ahead as it pertains to skill gaps. He provided data pertaining to innovative initiatives and the importance of each State Workforce Investment Board (SWIB) having a strong connection to the Governor’s plan for jobs and skill development, the right members, key industries, relevant state agencies, and key stakeholders. He furthered stated that a strategic vision and clear goals are necessary, along with a willingness and commitment to lead.

Mr. Simon’s presentation may be reviewed at http://vwn.vccs.edu/resources/virginia-workforce-council/

Chair Battle opened the discussion for questions and answers.

MINUTES
• Action recommended: Approval of the minutes for the June 9, 2011 meeting.
  The Council approved the minutes as submitted.

PUBLIC COMMENTS

Chair Battle opened the floor for public comments and acknowledged at least one item from area VI. Mr. Battle introduced Local Workforce Investment Board (LWIB) VI Co-WIB Chairs, Barbara Kessler and Rudolph Beverly, and Heather Foor, Program Manager, Thomas Jefferson Program for Economic Development.

Public comments were received from Area VI pertaining to concern for ongoing partnerships and the need to update current State Memorandum of Understanding.

Ms. Kessler emphasized the need for collaboration and partnership in order to create and strengthen the system. In addressing the Council, Ms. Kessler reviewed the history of the Piedmont Workforce Network and its commitment to doing business and providing services in their locality. The current concerns are surrounding partnerships with local agencies/businesses, state and local government agencies, and any decisions that directly impacts comprehensive support for local and/or regional efforts.

Ms. Kessler informed Council of the current status of work relationships and strategic goals, which include a regional targeted workforce study. This study will include a business cluster analysis to prepare for target identification and evaluate emerging and growth industries. The desired outcome is to provide data that is needed to move to the next level and meet strategic goals.

Mr. Beverly presented part-two of this discussion and identified the challenges with reduced budgets, and the need for continued support by state agencies to support one stops and the services provided through Workforce Investment Boards (WIBs). Mr. Beverly stated that Piedmont Workforce Network (PWN) is committed to remaining in partnership with its partners, both statewide and local, and look forward to a mutual agreement that will allow these entities to continue to work together and to achieve greater results for employers and job seekers.
Mr. Beverly expressed pride in Area VI achievements, as it provides services to increase the quality and improve the competitiveness and productivity of the workforce in the region. He emphasized that the partnerships were crucial and imminent changes to structure that would jeopardize continuity of services would impact success in integrating a seamless customer service delivery system. He emphasized the importance of making Council aware that collaboration fostered working relations in training programs, performance driven services, deliverables, strategies to improving and equipping the workforce, and decisions that create a change in the comprehensive system will effect services.

On behalf of Piedmont Workforce Network, Mr. Beverly and Ms. Kessler expressed that the economic future and sustainability rest with partners working together to avoid or minimize disruption of services to customers.

Mr. Battle thanked Ms. Kessler, Mr. Beverly, and Ms. Foor for their discussion and opened the floor for questions and answers.

Christine Kennedy addressed the Council in response supporting that there are recognized barriers on funding streams for specific entities which designate funds for coordinated efforts for new initiatives and creates restraints in processes. She agrees that initiatives that break down collaboration causes increase barriers for economic competitiveness, and limits joint focus to develop regional mindsets for a robust performance.

Mr. Battle introduced Dr. Craig Herndon, Vice-Chancellor, Virginia Community College System (VCCS) Workforce Development Services. Dr. Herndon briefed Council on the Chancellor’s updates regarding Achieve 2015, the direct reflection of re-engineering programs as they target Health and Human Services, and other employment training strategic plans. Dr. Herndon acknowledged a recently awarded grant received by Tidewater Community College that will allow services to target Trade-Adult Dislocated Workers, services and training skills. The grant to Virginia Community Colleges System (VCCS) from United States Department of Labor (USDOL) for $24.1 million with Tidewater Community College as fiscal agent.

Mr. Battle thanked Dr. Herndon and opened the floor to questions. Several questions and some clarification regarding the grant information were presented.

Senator Miller requested a point of contact for the grant programs that will target Adult Dislocated Workers’ services and training. The grant to Virginia Community Colleges System (VCCS) from United States Department of Labor (USDOL) for $24.1 million with Tidewater Community College as fiscal agent.

Mark Dreyfus inquired about the grant funding objectives to meet a criterion to create jobs with the monies.

Delegate Byron expressed concerns regarding Agenda items presented and to have items be more aligned with strategic goals identified by members of Council. Delegate Byron requested copies of the federal guidelines and staff to the Council to provide information that identifies areas that may provide flexibility in identifying and meeting services and performance measures that will address job creation, skill gaps, and focus on Council initiatives identified by Council.

Mr. Battle thanked members of Council for their feedback and requested Workforce Development Services (WDS) staff to Council to follow-up with responses to address the questions and/or concerns of Senator Miller, Delegate Byron, and Mr. Dreyfus.
Chairman’s Report

- Welcome and introductions of new appointees to Council

Chair Battle acknowledged outgoing members of Council with terms ending on June 30, 2011, these members included Roozbeh Dadabhoy, Robert P. Leber, Guillermo Meneses, Doyle Rasnick, Rita Ricks, Don Sullenberger, Andrea Wooten. Mr. Battle noted that their services to Council and the Commonwealth of Virginia were awarded with letters of recognition from the Office of the Governor.

- 2012 Charge to Council
  - Alignment
  - Regionalism
  - Branding

Mr. Battle appealed to Council to provide leadership and support for the Career Pathways State Plan; support improvement in the youth related performance measures; provide careful stewardship of public resources given reductions in federal grant sources including the Workforce Investment Act (WIA), Perkins, and Tech Prep. Mr. Battle recognizes that the demand for workforce services is at an all-time high, yet funding sources are decreasing.

Mr. Battle opened the floor to a questions and answer session.

Mr. Battle introduced the newly appointed Secretary of Education, Laura Fornash. In the absence of Secretary of Commerce and Trade, Secretary James Cheng, Mr. Battle introduced Carrie Cantrell, Deputy Secretary, Commerce and Trade. Each presented information on the Governor’s Report and updates following the 2011 Governor’s Forum: 2nd Annual Governor’s Forum on Education and Workforce Training.

Governor’s Report

- Secretary Fornash discussed points that aligned with the presentation of Martin Simon, and she recognized that this group with the leadership of Dr. Leber had initiated credential attainment and identified specific goals. She noted several performance initiatives and pilots that were in place currently under the Governor’s initiative (college labs continuum and planning grants, K-12 diplomas), and the goal to have students be college and/or career ready with workforce credentials upon graduation. Secretary Fornash stated that these initiatives are in the early research or pilot stages. She also referenced an initiative that would include Microsoft Academy in all schools to level the field and progression in high schools and technical centers. She stated one of the challenges for this initiative is broadband and technical availability to rural areas but if this can be addressed it would prove advantageous in the employment arena across Virginia. The current administration is focused on Higher Education.

- Deputy Secretary Cantrell discussed Workforce Development Initiatives and joint partnerships. The Governor’s administration is currently considering hiring a Workforce Development Director, to be housed under the Secretary of Education, which will address some of the points that the Chair has spoken of (branding, measuring outcomes, credential attainment). The Workforce Director will build upon high skill level, building partnerships with private businesses and focus on a strategic plan to move forward, address change, identify new initiatives that will drive towards employable workers, creating jobs, supporting business investments in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Ms. Cantrell recognized the efforts of the Council on Virginia Future and its efforts in supplying performance measure data and its partnership with Virginia Community College’s Workforce Development initiatives.
Mr. Battle thanked Secretary Fornash and Deputy Secretary Cantrell for these updates. Mr. Battle asked if there was a strategic plan for Workforce. In response, Secretary Fornash stated that this is being considered as an initiative for the Workforce Development Director position when established.

Mr. Battle introduced John Broadway, Commissioner, Virginia Employment Commission.

Washington Update: Federal-Legislative Activity

Background:

FY2012 Appropriations

Just before Christmas, the House and Senate agreed to a $1 trillion omnibus spending package (H.R. 2055) that includes nine bills for FY 2012, including the Labor-HHS-Education appropriations bill. President Obama signed the measure, just hours before the existing stopgap measure was set to expire at midnight, December 16.

The conference agreement provides $14.5 billion for the Department of Labor, which is $145.4 million above last year’s level and $251.2 million below the President’s request. The increase above FY 2011 is due to a provision that fully funds Job Corps in the current fiscal year. Absent this provision, the conference agreement reduces the Department of Labor’s budget by $545.6 million below last year and $942.2 million below the request.

The budget agreement ensures most workforce programs will be funded at levels similar to fiscal 2011. The final bill did not include the House-bill language that eliminated the advance appropriation for WIA and Wagner-Peyser programs, which would have had a dramatic negative impact on funding for workforce programs. Highlights of the conference agreement include the following:

- The Governor’s WIA State set aside will not exceed five percent (it used to be at 15%);
- Dislocated Workers State Grants are reduced nationally by $55 million;
- Workforce Innovation Grants are reduced from approximately $100 million in the Senate bill to $50 million;
- It includes a directive for the Government Accountability Office (GAO) to assess the capabilities of the Adult and Dislocated Worker Employment and Training programs to adequately prepare participants for currently available jobs.
- For Veterans Employment and Training Service (VETS), the bill provides a total of $265 million, which is $9.3 million above last year’s level and $4 million above the President’s request.

Work on the FY2013 Appropriations cycle is well underway. President Obama will unveil his FY2013 budget proposal in early February.

WIA Reauthorization

Two bills were introduced in the House of Representatives in December to reauthorize the workforce investment system.

- H.R. 3610, Streamlining Workforce Development Programs Act, introduced by Representative Virginia Foxx (R-N.C.), chairwoman of the Subcommittee on Higher Education and Workforce Training, would consolidate 33 of the 47 federal job training programs identified in the GAO report from earlier this year into four "Workforce Investment Funds". The bill would also utilize common performance measures across all employment and training programs; allow governors to determine workforce areas; and allow states to submit one statewide workforce development plan. The four "Workforce Investment Funds" identified in H.R. 3610 include:

- A Workforce Investment Fund, which would provide formula funding to States for job training services to adults, unemployed workers, and youth seeking employment. Formula factors are similar to current Adult formula factors. Funds would be allocated to Local Areas based on the same formula factors. This stream would replace WIA Adult and Dislocated Worker, Wagner-Peyser, Title V Older Worker, NEG, and possibly other current programs. The bill authorizes $4.3 billion annually for Fiscal Years (FYs) 2013-2018.

- A State Youth Workforce Investment Fund, which would provide formula funds to States to serve disadvantaged youth, with a focus on school completion. Funds would be awarded by the States to LWIBs and/or not-for-profit or for-profit service providers on a competitive basis. Formula factors for allotments to States are number of disadvantaged youth (50%) and number of HS dropouts aged 16-17 (50%). States can require match from youth service providers. Funding for Job Corps Centers, if States choose to award funds to them, would come from this funding stream. Grants would be for 1 year, renewable for up to 4 additional 1 year awards. The bill authorizes $1.9 billion annually for FYs 2013-2018.

- A Veterans Workforce Investment Fund, which would provide formula funds to States for employment and training services to U.S. veterans. Funds would be allocated to States and then to Local Areas based on the number of unemployed veterans. Local areas would be required to hire Vet Reps to coordinate and deliver services. Currents Vets programs are consolidated into this stream. The bill authorizes $218 million annually for FYs 2013-2018.

- A Targeted Populations Workforce Investment Fund, which would provide formula funds to States for assistance to special populations, including refugees and immigrants, ex-offenders, migrant and seasonal farm workers, and Native Americans. Funds would be allocated to local areas based on the same formula factors used to allocate funds to States. Current funding for these target populations is rolled into this stream and current program authorizations are repealed. The bill authorizes $581 million annually for FYs 2013-2018.

- The bill provides Governors with additional flexibility in designing and operating programs. The infrastructure would remain similar to WIA with state and local workforce boards that are more business focused. The Governor has more latitude in designating workforce areas including an option for a single statewide area. One stop continues as the primary service point for workforce services and it appears that process requirements are less stringent.

- Performance measures for all adults are common with separate, but related measures for youth. There is also common data collection and reporting but it appears even more demanding than individual program data collection systems now require.
The second bill (H.R. 3611), introduced by Congressman Joe Heck (R-Nev.)—Local Job Opportunities and Business Success Act (or Local JOBS Act), is aimed at strengthening the role of businesses in the workforce system and reduce red tape on local workforce boards. Specifically, the bill would require a two-thirds majority of board members represent business and would eliminate representation requirements for WIA partner programs, local educational entities, and labor organizations. The bill would mandate that local boards reserve a minimum percentage of funds for training activities, according to criteria determined by such boards.

Earlier in 2011, the Howard “Buck” McKeon (R-Calif.) introduced the Workforce Investment Improvement Act (H.R. 2295) to increase training flexibility. H.R. 3610 and H.R. 3611 supplement the former Chairman’s legislation. All three bills were praised by Committee Chairman John Kline (R-Minn.) and form a package of reforms.

It is expected that the Senate Health, Education, Labor and Pensions (HELP) Committee will introduce its bipartisan WIA Reauthorization bill in early 2012. In addition, Democrats on the House Education and Workforce Committee may also introduce a WIA bill in early 2012.

Extension of UI and Payroll Tax Cut
Just prior to the Christmas recess, Congressional leaders in the House and Senate agreed to a temporary two month extension of the expiring Emergency Unemployment Compensation Act (EUC08) program and Social Security payroll tax cut. This issue will be debated again soon after Congress returns in January.

   Adult Career Coaches in Virginia

BACKGROUND:

Working cooperatively, the Virginia Community College System (VCCS) and Virginia Department of Education’s (VDOE) Office of Adult Education and Literacy (OAEL) are driving a vision and developing a model for adult career coaches to be deployed at strategic entry points to Virginia’s workforce system including: community colleges, adult education providers, and One Stop Career Centers. As envisioned by the VCCS and VDOE team responsible for designing an adult career coach model, career coaches for adults will provide: career and educational planning services; assistance with admissions and financial aid (including financial assistance available through the workforce and higher education systems); connections to support services—such as child care and transportation—available through human services agencies and community based organizations; connections to experiential learning opportunities such as internships and cooperative learning; and guidance in the job search and placement process including coaching in employability skills and interviewing. The vision is that Virginia will stand up a coaching program—including statewide goals and outcomes, professional development and a community of practice—that supports the program goals and performance benchmarks of multiple agencies and institutions administering such diverse workforce initiatives as Workforce Investment Act (WIA) Adult and Dislocated Worker programs, Postsecondary Perkins, adult education and more.

Currently, both the VCCS and VDOE’s Adult Education Office are supporting regional adult career coach projects. In 2010-11, OAEL deployed two Transitional Specialists based in regional adult education locations in Hampton Roads and Northern Virginia and added a third specialist, in 2011-12, in Danville. Simultaneously, the VCCS, through a Ford Foundation grant awarded to the Virginia Foundation for Community College Education, provided fiscal resources and technical assistance to Southside Virginia Community College for three adult career coaches currently working in adult education settings in that community college service region. The number of adult career coaches deployed throughout the workforce system will dramatically increase beginning Winter 2012 as community colleges, through a Trade Act Adjustment (TAA) grant led by Tidewater Community Colleges, will initiate hiring of 60 full and part-time adult career coaches and experiential learning/job placement coordinators.

In addition to fielding coaches, the TAA grant provides for development and assessment of an adult career coaching model including professional development and a community of practice to drive continuous program improvement. Initial steps towards building a national model of adult career coaching include a jointly planned and funded two day professional development workshop that was offered by VDOE’s OAEL and VCCS Workforce Development in early November. Focusing on the career and educational advising needs of low skills, low wage adults, the workshop drew participation from more than 50 professionals providing one-on-one assistance to transitional adults through workforce development programs such as Middle Colleges and Plugged In, On Ramp, One Stop Career Centers, and community colleges and adult education providers. The event marked the first statewide training of practitioners functioning as adult career coaches in Virginia and was also notable for the diversity in terms of organizational affiliation of those participating in the training.

Immediately following the two day training, on November 9, a statewide focus group, comprised of representatives from VCCS, VDOE, and State Council of Higher Education for Virginia (SCHEV) as well as local school divisions, community colleges, universities, One Stop Centers and Workforce Investment Boards (WIBs), and Virginia Department of Social Services (DSS) convened in Richmond to identify essential services that adult career coaches should provide, identify statewide outcomes by which coaching can be evaluated, and identify competencies that will be needed by career coaches. The focus group was facilitated by Gregory Brittingham, a consultant with the Performance Management Group of the Virginia Commonwealth University’s Center for Public Policy. A summary report of the focus group’s conclusions will be disseminated, and the Virginia Workforce Council will be asked to review and advise the focus group’s conclusions so as to ensure a program that meets the needs and expectations of business and industry in the Commonwealth.

ACTION RECOMMENDED:

Review and revision or approval of list of services to be provided by adult career coaches, statewide outcomes of coaching program, and competencies required of coaches so as to meet expectations and needs of Virginia’s employers.

TITLE: Industry Sectors and Career Pathways System
Virginia Career Readiness Certificate

BACKGROUND:

2011 Annual Report for the Virginia Workforce Council

With support from the Virginia Workforce Council (VWC), the numbers of Career Readiness Certificate (CRC) recipients continue to grow to certify the workplace readiness skills of Virginians. The Virginia CRC is based on ACT’s WorkKeys® assessments – Applied Mathematics, Locating Information, and Reading for Information – that provide individuals a workplace skills certification that employers can use to make reliable decisions on hiring and training. By putting the right people in the right jobs, businesses can be more productive and profitable.

As required by the CRC legislation passed during the 2008 General Assembly session, VWC adopted a budget to develop outreach and incentive activities to enhance and expand Virginia’s CRC program. The budget included $900,000 available from FY2008 through FY2012. The funding is a combination of federal and state funds as well as in-kind resources to support the continued implementation of the CRC.

In collaboration with the Virginia Community College System, the Community College Workforce Alliance (CCWA) provides leadership through FY 2012 for the CRC initiative, as established by a contract between CCWA and the Virginia Community College System in 2008. CCWA is the workforce development partnership of J. Sargeant Reynolds and John Tyler Community Colleges.

Community colleges, paired with their local One-Stops, improved partnerships with businesses, enhanced outreach efforts and saw increases in the number of CRCs achieved from the previous year. In FY2011, Virginia awarded approximately 7,500 CRCs which was a 30 percent increase over the previous year. Over the lifetime of this program, over 25,000 Virginians have received a CRC.

Continued licenses with software providers, WIN and KeyTrain, allow community colleges and One-Stop Centers to administer Internet-based, interactive training to provide comprehensive learning systems for emerging, transitional and incumbent workers on common skills required by all jobs based on ACT’s WorkKeys® assessment system.

The CRC has been approved by the Virginia Board of Education as an industry recognized credential that may substitute for the student-selected verified credit toward graduation requirements. State funds for the career and technical education student industry certifications can be used to pay for the CRC.

The cost for the CRC has been reduced for Virginia’s school divisions and direct partners of the community colleges (including college employees, recipients of Rapid Response, WIA, and ARI participants) from the standard $45 to $30 providing that these entities proctor the assessments.

A revised website – www.crc.virginia.gov – and database was launched to provide employers, jobseekers and economic development and workforce professionals with information about the CRC. The site provides a user-friendly tool for employers to search data on the skill levels of Virginia’s workforce.

Governor McDonnell presented a public service announcement declaring the impact of the CRC to Virginia’s economy by increasing the credentialing and building Virginia’s workforce. Other brief testimonials by employers and certificate holders spout the benefits of the CRC for building connections between employer and the workforce.

A CRC Advisory Council made up of business, economic development, education and workforce leaders is meeting to develop strategies to expand the use of the CRC by education, workforce development and employers.

In November 2011, the VWC approved a Work-Readiness Performance Improvement Resolution authorizing a special advisory committee to review relevant information on work ready communities and the condition of the Commonwealth, relative to the goal of expanding attainment of the Career Readiness Certificate (CRC), including clear information on the opportunities and challenges in implementing work-ready communities. A special advisory committee, a subset of the CRC Advisory Council, was formed in November and will present its recommendations to the VWC in early January 2012. In the same resolution, the VWC is seeking a plan to be presented in April 2012 to implement an increase to no less than 25% CRC attainment for WIA recipients.

TITLE: Performance and Accountability
   Evaluation/Review of WIBs

BACKGROUND:

At the November 2011 VWC meeting, Deputy Secretary, Carrie Cantrell requested the VWC to review the local WIBs. Committee staff reviewed evaluations conducting in other states and asked for additional input on the focus of the request from the Secretary’s office. Based on this input, there are three potential areas that could act as focal areas for the review. These include:

- Strategic planning: Some areas of focus could include how WIBs work to develop strategic plans that have clear objectives and measurable outcomes and how they use these plans to drive performance and leverage partnerships.
- Employer needs: Some areas of focus could include how WIBs align training needs with employer demand, utilize labor market information to develop strategies, and
- Customer needs: Some areas of focus could include performance on the WIA common measures, funds provided for direct service to customers, and customer satisfaction.

The Secretary’s office highlighted that there is an interest to know more regarding the services provided to employers in local areas. However, these additional areas may be of interest to the Council as well.

There are several approaches to evaluate the WIBs. Methods can include self-assessments, on-site interviews, analysis of data and survey instruments. In several states that have reviewed WIBs, the first year is focused on understanding operations and identifying methods to improve process at a state level. The second year focuses more on compliance with established processes and guidance communicated based on findings in the first year.

ACTION RECOMMENDED:

Committee Staff seek input from Council members to identify potential metrics for evaluation of WIBs, expected outcomes, the tools to be used to conduct the evaluation, and estimated timeline to complete the review.

Scorecards

BACKGROUND:
Current efforts are underway to measure Virginia’s public workforce programs with one common tool. It is important to highlight that this is an active process, with continuous enhancements expected over time based on multiple levels and sources of stakeholder input. The balanced scorecard method was selected as an ideal way to present several layers of performance information in a concise manner. A balanced scorecard is a management tool that aligns performance measures with strategic objectives, and helps decision makers track progress, foster accountability, and prioritize areas for improvement (Center for Workforce Learning, 2010).

Scorecard Audience
The potential audience and users of Virginia’s Workforce Scorecard is varied. In general, users can be categorized in three broad levels: system-level stakeholders who are interested in a summary of the performance of the entire public workforce system; agency-level stakeholders who may need more detailed performance information according to target populations; and program-level administrators who may require access to real-time program performance in a specific region or workforce area.

Rationale for scorecard measures
Staff developed the foundation for Virginia’s workforce scorecard based on internal and external research efforts. An examination of practices, particularly in other states with active scorecard initiatives (Florida, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Washington) suggests that an effective approach is to focus on a few measures that are most critical to the achievement of strategic goals. Outlined below are the six measures proposed for consideration as performance areas for Virginia’s initial workforce scorecard:

- Business engagement measures - Includes qualitative assessments of services to employers as customers for the workforce system
- Economic growth measures - Considers multiple indicators of business and job expansion
- Education measures - Evaluates standard credential outcomes and industry-specific credentialing trends
- Employment measures - Takes into account employment outcomes, industry cluster penetration, employment retention and wages.
- Return on investment measures - Includes an analysis of program costs and economic value added for the system
- System growth measures - Considers the training and retention of individuals responsible for delivering workforce system services

ACTION RECOMMENDED:
Staff seeks input from Council members and stakeholders of workforce programs on the refinement of the performance areas outlined above and the development of specific metrics for each area. For example, the employment measure might include entered employment, average earnings, employment retention, and industry cluster metrics. Sample scorecards will be provided during the committee session for review and input.

TITLE: Performance and Accountability
WIA Incentive Awards

BACKGROUND:

Each year, based on VWL policy #05-02, the Virginia Workforce Council offers incentive awards to local workforce investment areas. These awards recognize the hard work of local areas to meet past performance standards and offer an incentive to local areas to increase partnerships both locally and regionally to meet the changing needs of the economy and Virginia’s workforce and to improve performance through WIA common measures. The awards are available through four major areas: (1) regional collaboration, (2) local coordination, (3) exemplary performance, and (4) most improved. The first two focus on methods to improve local and regional partnerships within and across WIB areas, while the last two focus primarily on performance.

Last year, the VWC restructured the awards for Regional Collaboration and Local Coordination to focus on career pathways systems development. This aligned with recent guidance issued jointly by the US Departments of Labor and Education that encouraged adoption of the elements outlined in career pathways development to improve economic development and delivery of services in regions and local areas. In addition to adopting a thematically focused approach to WIA Incentive Grants this year, the process changed in that two of the four Incentive award categories were issued through a competitive grant application process that provided larger grant awards to a select number of local WIBs. Virginia Workforce Council members served as grant application reviewers.

The Exemplary Performance and Most Improved awards are provided based on prior performance on the US DOL WIA measures. Criteria for determining these areas are outlined in state policy. However, in FY 2011, Virginia switched reporting through 17 core measures to reporting through six common measures, which will require a review of the criteria that should be used for identifying areas as Most Improved, since that award category involves a year-to-year comparison of performance data.

ACTION RECOMMENDED:

Committee Staff seek four Council members to assist in reviewing the criteria for providing incentive awards for FY 2013. The process typically involves a conference call to review the application and criteria (January 2012), a review of applications provided by local areas (May 2012), and a follow up conference call to determine the recipients prior to the next VWC meeting (late May).

TITLE: Council Committee Structure

Executive Committee

The Executive Committee is established with the primary purpose of executing decisions on behalf of the full Council as may be required between full Council meetings. Members shall include the Governor, Council Chair, Council Vice-Chair, Secretary of Commerce and Trade, Secretary of Education, Secretary of Health and Human Resources, one Senator from the Council’s membership, one Delegate from the Council membership, and the Chairs for any such sub-committee that may be established. Either the Governor or the Council chair shall have the ability to call and convene meetings of the Executive Committee. The Council Chair and Vice-Chair are Chair and Vice-Chair of the Executive Committee.

Industry Sectors and Career Pathways System Committee

In order to build upon the Council’s role in providing leadership in relation to Virginia’s Career Pathways Plan, this committee will serve to identify gaps that exist in the alignment between education systems and the business community that prevent employers from having a skilled workforce or residents from having the education and training necessary to develop and adapt their skills in a changing economy. Based upon such analysis, the Committee will recommend what strategies or interventions might be developed or refined by career pathway system partners to fill these gaps. This committee will analyze future trends and also focus on issues and challenges which prevent the Virginia Workforce Network (Virginia’s public workforce development system created under the Workforce Investment Act) from achieving full success in roles as articulated in federal law and State Code.

Performance and Accountability Committee

Under the umbrella of advocating for continuous improvement of the statewide workforce investment system, this committee will focus on identifying metrics that can assist the Council and other key decision and policy makers at the local, state and national levels in efficiently determining the effectiveness of workforce system services in meeting the needs of Virginia’s employers, workers and job seekers, as well as evaluating those results on a regular basis and making recommendations for improvement. This committee will also have a role with the federal common measures and local workforce investment board-specific program performance, incentives and sanctions.
